Introduction

Nowadays, many messages delivered creatively in many visual media. It comes along with the information which is running fast all the time and demanding more attractive media to the readers. Reading the visual media becomes very important to catch the advantages or knowledge in. Seeing this condition, today, many products are promoted by visual advertisements. We can find millions in the internet the brochures that offers so many commercial products.

“Hafiz and Hafizah Talking Doll” is one of the best seller product. This kind of educative toys has track the record because of the increasing of demand by customers toward the product. The brochures is scattered in the internet and always be renewing with an update kind of offers. Tiga Raksa is the producer of this Indonesian product with the slogan “Solusi Pintar untuk Menghafal Al Qur’an” (Smart Solution to Memorize Al Qur’an). It is a kind of effort to introduce the islamic children with Al Qur’an and to facilitate them within the interesting features. Besides, the cash and credit payment is available. These important reasons then make the brochures to have a deep analysis.
Multimodal discourse analysis has enriched the linguistics study with many researches. Some of them are focusing on Picture Books (Wu, 2014), Movie (Cheng & Liu, 2014), Magazine Covers (Behshad & Ghaniabadi, 2015), Tmall’s Advertisement (Hu & Luo, 2016) Advertisements (Guo & Feng, 2017), and Cartoon (Ariyo & Samuel, 2017). The analysis based on the commercial products are still limited. By doing the analysis of multimodal on children educative toys “Hafiz and Hafizah Talking Doll” hopefully it will contribute to the linguistics study.

Literature Review

Many images are served in much media. Each images have their own meaning which some of the texts are written explicitly on the picture. On the contrary, the images also have their own meanings even the word are silent in their text forms. Pictures, or image texts as a a more scientifically term we can now use, are often thought of being worth a thousand words (Hermawan, 2011). It is important to build the meaning whether written or not. Because the images usually deliver the meaning without depend on the text. Therefore, the understanding of grammar as a visual design are proposed to understand the images on the media. As Halliday (in Kress & Leeuwen, 2006: 2) stated:

“Grammar goes beyond formal rules of correctness. It is a means of representing patterns of experience... It enables human beings to build a mental picture of reality, to make sense of their experience of what goes on around them and inside them.”

Since the language as a sign of communication, it is also important to discuss about images as a sign in semiotics form. Reading images is essential to understand the semiotics mode rewith any signifiers in. Which the forms are used to realized meaning According to Kress & Leeuwen sign-making is realized in many signifiers such as colour, perspective and line.

The grammar of visual design by kress & leeuwen (stated in Unsworth, 2008) adopted from Halliday's theory of Systemic Functional Language (SFL) are Representational/ideational (structures verbally and visually construct the nature of events, the objects and participants involved, and the circumstances in which they occur); Interactive/interpersonal (verbal and visual resources construct the nature of relationships among speakers/listeners, writers/readers, and viewers and what is viewed); and Compositional/textual (meanings are concerned with the distribution of the information value or relative emphasis among elements of the text and image).

Liu (2013) stated that multimodal discourse analysis is analyzing how several or all of the different semiotic modes go together to create a unified text or communicative event. In this case critical analysis is needed. By this situation the approach of multimodal discourse analysis is appropriate to be applied in conducting the research of “Hafiz and Hafizah Talking Doll” brochures in identifying the meaning textually and semiotically.
Research Method
In this research, there are ten brochures to be analyzed to get the better analysis on the approach of Multimodal Discourse. The brochures may be differ on each strategies in promoting the “Hafiz and Hafizah Talking Doll”. The research is conducted in qualitative in the linguistic framework. It is done by applying the SFL to the identification of the meaning. Therefore, it could build our perspective in understanding reading images as well as inspire us in gathering consumers by visual media.

Discussion
Using the multimodal discourse analysis with SFL, the brochures are divided into these three categories in meaning, representational/ideational, interactive/interpersonal, and compositional/textual.

Representational/ideational

Verbally by these three brochures, it can be analyzed some of the clauses:

This third picture also show the material process which is show and serve for the customers and readers.

Visually, The brochures, beside are written verbally, they are also explicitly offer the reader that it will give the advantages for the customers to get the product. Explicitly, the producer say to “Purchase” all the items in pairs or pieces. We can see it by the various features, colours, and professions of the hafizh doll. In fact, “purchase” also show the “material process”.

In the text also even it is not written, we can read that the images show the main participant of the brochure is the doll, hafiz and hafizah and also hafiz junior. These all images in the picture are readily smile and say hello to the readers as the “candidate” of customers. With the attractive colourful doll, ofcourse will give the nice “eye catching” especially for the children.

Interactive/interpersonal

In this brochures we can also looking at the relationship among viewers and what is viewed (Kress & Leeuwen in Unsworth, 2008).

Interpersonally the whole of this forth brochures is showing the relationship between producer and customer of a product. In this case, the producer is “Tiga Raksa” we can... see the website address, www.tigaraksa-ep.id. Then, the customers is the reader of the brochures including the person purchasing the products. At last the product is the educative toy, “Hafiz and Hafizah Talking Doll”.

We can also see the different offers and promotions, from the producer to the customers, in each brochures. In picture 4 it is showed that it offer a “New Product”, hafiz/hafizah junior in two kinds of profession, they are doctor and pilot. This two cool profession show the importance of studying Al Qur’an even they are full of agenda with their business in hospital and aeroplane.

Then, in picture 5 it is showed that the new offer for the customers is, if the customers buy the “Mushaf Maqamat for Kids” they could get hafiz/hafizah as well. Of course with the regularities o the producer. One of the interesting point in this brochure is, the producer also offer a cash and credit payment. It show that it is not totally hard to having this product.

In picture 6 it is shown that the produc is deliver in new features and bilingual edition, this upcoming product will ready at a certain date and need to be “pre-order”. “Pre-Order” (PO) is the example of communication between producer and customers, in this case tiga raksa and the readers.
Same with the previous picture, the producer are offering the customers a new product, hafiz/hafizah junior, a “special price” are offering to get more customers.

Compositional/textual

Todays brochures, however, sometimes do not put so many information verbally in. The picture and a keyword ca presented what is mainly porposing by the brochure. We can see the examples in these belowing pictures:

In interpreting the brochures, textually we should understand what is given as a theme and what is new as the rheme of the information. These three brochures, entirely show the theme in a simple quotation.

The difference on each brochures, the Picture 8 theme is “Ready on Smartphone Application”, the theme of Picture 9 “New Arrival Product of Tiga Raksa”, and the last, picture 10 theme’s “Special Price, Rp 2,350,000”. These ll themes will easily understand by the readers of te brochures, even there are not flowery explanation about that. Of course, the theme takes the curiosity of the customers and readers, whether asking or buying the products. While the rhyme is the product, hafiz/hafizah doll, the educative toy.

Conclusions

Understanding the brochures of “Hafiz and Hafizah Talking Doll” by applying Multimodal Discourse Analysis (MDA) is very interesting and important for getting the knowledge about making a brochure especially for commercial aspect. The analysis showed that the brochures are design textually and visually to represent the material process about the product including the importance, price and service of the product. The colourful and facial expression of the product is attracting the customers for purchasing one, some, or the whole products. Besides, the interactive communication of the producer to the customers are build by showing the new product, pre-order and special price. One of the essential one is the producer offer the customers to buy the product in cash or credit payment. The latter payment shows that the producer try to make a close relationship to the customers by having the product easily. Because today, is multimedia era and someone can get information as fast as possible in the internet, sometimes the brochures is served not fully in words but only in a phrase. It is because the picture has deliver information for the readers and understanding what is given emphasis of the picture is the key in reading images. The good brochures of course will supporting an increasing advantages of a product for example the “Hafiz and Hafizah Talking Doll” as a best seller products. The further research about MDA especially in colouring and space of the brochure will enrich this kind of study.
